

Book Talk

Diverse Futures: Indigenous Influences on Latinx Science Fiction

Tuesday, October 12, 2021
from 3:30pm- 4:30pm

Join LaGuardia Professor Joy Sanchez-Taylor and Latinx science fiction scholar Dr. Taryne Jade Taylor (Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University) as they celebrate the launch of Dr. Sanchez-Taylor's new book, Diverse Futures, by discussing the ways that Indigenous cultural practices are influencing contemporary Latinx science fiction and fantasy texts.

Zoom RSVP: <https://bit.ly/diversefutures10-12>

This event will also discuss a science-fiction themed writing contest open to all LaGuardia students. Scan the QR Code for more information about the contest.

SCAN ME

This event is sponsored by the Latinx Heritage Committee and the Office of Campus Life

To request special accommodations, please email Campus Life at campuslife@lagcc.cuny.edu at least two weeks prior to the event.